Course Description

This course focuses on developing the skills needed for giving public speeches. Students will plan, prepare, and deliver speeches to praise, to inform, and to persuade their audience. The course teaches public speaking as a process, paying particular attention to topic selection, research, organization and transitions, claims and supporting evidence, argumentation and delivery. This course will help students develop their public speaking skills in a variety of contexts and help them overcome “stage-fright” inhibition through multiple and varied activities. We will also practice body politics, flow, delivery, timing, rapport and language. The students will develop speeches alone and in groups, and learn how to use visual aids. There will be oral and written assignments and assessments. The nature of the presentations and speeches will be of an increasingly complex nature, executed through scaffolded activities that will be monitored through summative professor, peer and self-evaluations.

Course Requirements

General Expectations

Class participation involves volunteering answers and contributing to the class discussions. Inhibition is the enemy of learning. Being prepared for class means that you demonstrate knowledge of assigned homework by participating actively in the discussions and turning in written homework upon request. Prepare the work assigned to a particular day the night before. Refrain from texting, phoning or engaging in computer activities unrelated to class during class.

Outlines

Students must submit outlines for their speeches on the day that they present them (only in the second part of the semester after the chapter on outlining is covered).

Speeches

Each student will deliver the required number of speeches and give feedback to others.

Final Portfolio

As a final evaluation, students are required to deliver a final metacognitive speech to reflect on their personal learning outcomes in relation to the course objectives.

Grading Policy

Type	Percentage
Speech of Introduction(3 minutes)	5% of grade
Persuasive Speech(5 minutes)	10% of grade
Special Occasion Speech(5 minutes)	10% of grade
Group Speech(10 minutes)	15% of grade
Class participation and Attendance	10% of grade
Written Assignments (outlines, HW, etc.)	10% of grade
Quizzes	25% of grade
Final Reflective Portfolio (5 minutes)	15% of grade

Grading Scale

The instructor will use the grading system as applied by JNU:

Definition	Letter Grade	Score
Excellent	A	90~100
Good	B	80~89
Satisfactory	C	70~79
Poor	D	60~69
Failed	E	Below 60

Attendance

Attendance is mandatory in the class. It would be recorded each class and forms part of students` participation record. Students should inform the instructor at the earliest opportunity if they need to ask for a leave. All absences may have negative effect on students` final grades. Any students with more than three unexcused absences will automatically fail the course.

Academic Integrity

As members of the Jinan University academic community, students are expected to be honest in all of their academic coursework and activities. Academic dishonesty, includes (but is not limited to) cheating on assignments or examinations; plagiarizing, i.e., misrepresenting as one`s own work any work done by another; submitting the same paper, or a substantially similar paper, to meet the requirements of more than one course without the approval and consent of the instructors concerned; or sabotaging other students` work within these general definitions. Instructors, however, determine what constitutes academic misconduct in the courses they teach. Students found guilty of academic misconduct in any portion of the academic work face penalties that range from the lowering of their course grade to awarding a grade of E for the entire course.
